

Mrs. Francese's Weekly Newsletter

Week of April 30, 2018

Reading: This week we are reading The Signmaker's Assistant. It is humorous fiction and focuses how we can be responsible when we make a mistake. The target skills are Main Idea and Details, and vowel patterns (aw, au, augh, and al).

Math: We are completing our unit on Fractions and Probability this week and will be moving on to Measurement later in the week. Many of the concepts in measurement have been covered earlier this year as part of their science studies but will be reviewed to reinforce what they learned.

Religion: Mass is on Wednesday at 8:30. The two second grades are preparing the Mass together. We will also lead the May Crowning of Mary. We have worked hard to prepare this beautiful Mass.

Social Studies: We are continuing to learn about Mexico. This week we will focus on map skills and label major areas in Mexico and discuss the border areas.

Congratulations to Jillian Sok, Doug Kinyon, Abby Tyrrell, and Laila Vivanco who made their First Reconciliation and First Holy Communion this week.
