

Mrs. Francese's Weekly Newsletter

Week of February 26, 2018

Reading: This week we are reading a myth called The Night the Moon Fell. Our target skills are plot and theme, adverbs for when and where, and syllable patterns. We will begin writing an original story that has a plot and theme.

Math: We completed the unit on money and time. This week we will begin to identify three digit num

Religion: School mass this week is Wednesday at 8:30. Our school community will have Stations of the Cross on Friday at 2:15. Father Matt is coming to our class on Wednesday afternoon to talk to the children. Each morning after prayer we discuss a page in our activity book called Jesus, teach us about Lent.

Social Studies: This week we will read a Scholastic newsletter about Ruby Parks and another about George Washington.

Special events for the week include:

Hot lunch on Thursday is Ledo's.

Sophie Copeland celebrated her birthday on Monday, February 19, 2018.

Star of the Week is Mateo Jadrijevic.

Parent reader is Mrs. Busted. We will begin to read Charlotte's Web.