A Little Note

Even with all of the excitement next week, our learning will not be taking a break. Due to Christmas Program practices, I'm readjusting the schedule a bit, and the children will be doing cross curricular activities during their regular English time slot – we will be integrating Reading and Social Studies in with our English activities as the children learn how Christmas is celebrated around the world.

I hope you will be able to join us for the Christmas program Friday morning. It begins at 8:45. It is very important that the children are here on time (if not early) so that we can get them dressed in their costumes and over to the church.

Merry Christmas!
